Sharon,
I hope this finds you well and enjoying the beautiful Spring! As a follow-up to our conversation on March 15, Oracle has issued Letters of Supply to the companies listed below which requires the inclusion of the attached Oracle GSA Supplemental Terms and Conditions into their GSA Schedules. These versions of the STCs have not been pre-reviewed by GSA Legal so it could help the process if you could send them to your Legal team to start review.

Company	Hardware LOS	Cloud LOS
Affigent	X	X
BIAS	X	X
Dynamic Systems	X
Mythics	X	X

We have one other company in consideration to receive a LOS; if there is an addition to the above I will notify you.

The partners that received LOSs for cloud also received a “Oracle America Inc. Cloud Computing Services Adherence to Essential Cloud Characteristics Statement” to include with their submissions.

Please let me know if you have any questions on this information.

Good morning William,

I am the MySQL support rep for GSA. I found your info on Hoovers.com and was hoping you might know of someone I can help.

MySQL, a free database, has been downloaded at GSA 695 times over the past 6 months. The reason my job exists is because this free open source database does not include security or monitoring. I am hoping to get in touch with someone at GSA who is using this database on a project important enough that it would make sense to take a look at what is available in those areas.

Thank you,
